

Talent Anarchy

Speaker Introduction & Short Bio

Talent Anarchy is the dynamic speaking duo of Jason Lauritsen and Joe Gerstandt. Jason and Joe are also authors of the book, Social Gravity: Harnessing the Natural Laws of Relationships.

Joe is the sage consultant. He's a middle-aged white guy who is a national thought-leader on issues of diversity and inclusion — need we say more? He is one part professor, one part philosopher and one part “rabble rouser.” He's also the self-proclaimed best-looking Talent Anarchist.

Jason Lauritsen is the reformed corporate guy. A former human resources executive, he today consults with organizations to help them make sense of employee engagement. He's a leader, sales guy, entrepreneur and corporate executive — all rolled up in one. You'll come to know him as the tall guy with hair.

Please help me to welcome, Talent Anarchy!
